

BRUMBIES TO ATTEND JUNIOR REGISTRATION DAY ON SUNDAY 15TH FEBRUARY

In a major boost to local junior rugby Brumbies players will be in attendance at various Canberra junior club registration days on Sunday 15th of February.

The 2009 rugby season is shaping up to be one of most anticipated in recent years with the introduction of the ELV's (Experimental Law variations) being adapted by the ACTJRU for all its competitions. With the game undergoing exciting changes to promote attacking dynamic rugby there is no better time than the 2009 season to become involved in this exciting game.

The ACT Junior Rugby Union is holding its official registration day on Sunday the 15th of February. Junior clubs will be taking registrations for new and existing players in age groups ranging from under 7's through to under 18's. The school based teams participating in the junior competition will be holding their own registrations within their schools.

All junior players that register will receive a Junior Registered Player card entitling them to free entry to all Brumbies home games in 2009.
